Design Process

We respect processes. All our projects go through our own predefined process. We allocate our time and deadlines as per the various steps. We will never start a work unless we have complete understanding of the requirement. With the help of Prelim Project Requirement Analysis, we follow our steps strictly. This also requires client involvement and makes the completion smooth. Following are the steps we follow for web designing:

- Information gathering
- Internal analysis
- Concept generation
- Creation of initial template – Look for approval
- Feedback from client
- Modification / Redesign as per the feedback
- Showing 50% of the work
- Seek approval for 50% of the work
- Complete balance 50% and thorough testing
- Final approval
- Launch the web site
- Hand over the completed work
